Builder leaves building, but not fight

By Mike Myers
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Not long before midnight Thursday, Darrell Crews left his building in the 1200 block of Niedringhaus, perhaps for the last time.

Because he refused to turn the 14-apartment complex over to Magna Bank, who foreclosed earlier this year on a $150,000 loan made to Crews, Crews was hours away from six months in jail.

As late as Thursday evening, when Crews warned a tragedy would result if authorities tried to get him out of the building, it was hard not to believe him.

"I'm not a damn nut, but I feel like I've been cornered," he said. "I've put my whole life in that building and it's all I've got left."

But Thursday night, Crews said, his family, who moved out of the building some time ago, and a lawyer who offered free services convinced him to leave. He did at about 11 p.m.

But Crews, who bought the building in 1976 and worked for 14 years trying to turn it into a senior citizen housing complex, said Friday it's not over yet.

Even if he never goes back to the building, Crews said, "I still think the highest and best use is exactly what I said in 1976 — Senior citizen housing would complement any development that might happen in the downtown area."

As a builder, Crews never had any problem convincing people he was a good idea. His problem was getting someone to help finance its renovation. First, no financial institution would touch the project until 1983, when First National Bank (now Magna) made the $150,000 loan.

But the most infuriating problem, Crews said, was finding that a number of federal programs were available for projects like his, but not in Granite City.

He said over the years he dealt with U.S. Rep. Mel Price, the Granite City Housing Authority, U.S. Rep. Jerry Costello, and Madison County Community Development.

"As late as this week, with Costello's office, I was told the same old thing: 'You can't get the money because Granite City hasn't signed an agreement to participate in the program.'"

"At Madison County (Community Development), they told me: 'Do the same thing in Edwardsville and we'll be pleased to have you.' Any place else I never would have been placed in this situation," he said.

Mayor Von Dee Cruse said he doesn't know everything about federal programs, but "I doubt there is anything the mayor and City Council can sign and the federal government just hands out the money. I wish it was that easy, but it never has been in my experience."

Still, Cruse said he sent Crews to Costello's office some time ago.

"We don't always know what we can do," the mayor said. "I think maybe (Costello's office) could tell us what to do. I would still like to see elderly housing right there where (Crews) is talking about. How to make it happen, I don't know."

Crews said it probably can't be proven, but he believes the city won't participate in federal housing projects because it would require opening them up to minorities.

"I think it's self-evident. We live in an all-white community and staying that way required somebody to make a real effort," Crews said. "What else are you going to believe?"

The mayor said, at least since he was elected in 1988, that "is just not true... when you have problems it's real easy to blame everybody else."

In his time as mayor, Cruse said, the city has never, for any reason, turned down a program that would be beneficial to the city.

Although Crews said it's probably hard to claim a legal right to federal grant and loan programs, he said the money was available for someone building the exact same project, and pays the same taxes, but somewhere else.

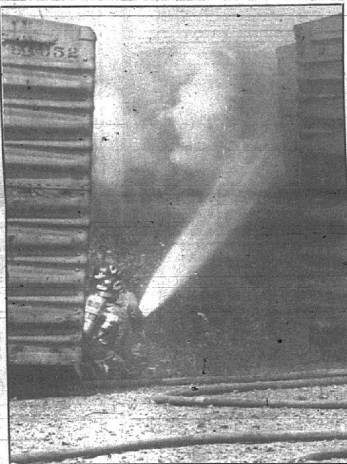

"I am denied the chance to earn a living because I choose to live and work in Granite City," Crews said. "Is that discrimination? I know it's morally and ethically wrong."

Crews said his favorite piece of writing is the Gettysburg Address and when he is feeling down he listens to a recording of it being read — "It's all about how you have to keep renewing the struggle to see basic moral values are enforced."

People like Abraham Lincoln, Martin Luther King and Nelson Mandela, he said, are examples that there are times when people have to make personal sacrifices in order to get what is morally right. He said he was listening to a program on the 4th of July when a performer sang three patriotic songs and then started talking about Martin Luther King's civil rights struggle.

"He was talking about how Dr. King was able to pursue his goals without bitterness," Crews said. "That's extremely hard to do. It's hard not to be bitter when you've been wronged. It's hard not to consider violence."

"So I sympathize with Nelson Mandela. Sometimes it seems like it's going to take a two-by-four across the head just to get the mule's attention."

Granite meets lead experts

By Mike Myers
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — About 90 of the world's top experts in environmental health and three Granite Citizens met in Cincinnati last week.

"One thing is for sure — they all know where Granite City is now," said Craig Tarporoff, a Granite City resident who attended.

The dangers and methods of dealing with lead-contaminated soil made up a large part of the 24th Annual Conference on Trace Substances in Environmental Health and Annual Meeting of the Society for Environmental Geochemistry and Health held in Cincinnati.

The city sent Public Works Director Brett Hanke and Assistant City Attorney Susan Bacon to find out what people on the cutting edge of the field think about the planned U.S. Environmental Health Agency's Superfund cleanup of the Taracorp site and the surrounding lead-contaminated soil.

Tarporoff attended on his own for the same reason. Several weeks ago, he filed a zoning complaint against the EPA charging its plan to add contaminated soil to and then seal the Taracorp waste pile at 15th and State streets violates the city's prohibition of hazardous waste storage.

Tarporoff, Hanke and Bacon met Friday and briefed Mayor Von Dee Cruse on the conference.

Hanke is expected to make a report to the City Council at Tuesday's meeting.

One thing they learned at the conference was the EPA must follow any state and local environmental laws that are more restrictive than the EPA's regulations. The city has long argued against leaving a permanent hazardous waste pile in the city and wants it hauled away.

The conference also seemed to support the city's contention that blood-lead tests must be done before any clean-up plan is accepted.

Cruse said he believed the city's three representatives "really got the attention of the scientific people" by taking full opportunity of their chance to ask questions. He said he knew Hanke has doubts before the conference about the usefulness of attending, but came back thinking it had been a great idea.

"Like I told Brett (Hanke), every day's a battle," Cruse said. "Every day, if you don't do something, you're losing ground. You've got to keep on fighting."

Madison County Transit unveils new buses

By Sam Hananel
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Residents using the Granite City Shuttle will be riding in style from now on.

The Madison County Transit District on Wednesday unveiled two state-of-the-art buses that are to become the new mainstays of within-the-city public transportation here.

The air-conditioned shuttle buses are part of a new 10-bus fleet that will replace aging shuttle buses currently operating in Madison County.

Nelson Hagauer, Madison County Board chairman and chairman of Madison County Transit, said the Granite City shuttle has the highest ridership of all the shuttle routes and, therefore, Granite City was the ideal place to unveil the new buses. He is supervisor of Granite City Township.

"We chose Orion II buses because they are 100 percent accessible," Hagauer said. "Passengers can just step from the curb right into the shuttle. This will be particularly helpful for the elderly or for riders with small children."

The vehicles have a curbside wheelchair ramp instead of a lift. The aisles are wider than in traditional buses and there is more leg room between seats.

Special "kneeling" features can lower the shuttles to about eight inches above the ground.

The buses were presented to the public outside the Granite City Township Hall. Present at the ceremony were Mayor Von Dee Cruse, Hagauer and Walker Shang, Greathouse, president of the Metro East Sanitary District.

Curbside trash pickup working

GRANITE CITY — Citizen response for the new "Curbside Trash Pickup" in the East Granite Improvement Area on Wednesday was encouraging, according to City Inspector Vince Scrum.

He said about half of the residents responded to the program the first week.

Laidlaw Waste Systems agreed to run both curbside and alley pickups in the first week. Beginning Wednesday, July 18, the trash will be picked up from curbside only.

Scrum said the city requests trash be placed at curbside between the street and the sidewalk the night before or the morning of pickup.

During summer cleanup of alleys, the Sanitation Department will remove trash stands and 55-gallon barrels to help facilitate weed cutting and cleanup.

The Sanitation Department also requests that bulk items be placed at curbside on the regular pickup day (Wednesday) and the department be called at 452-6225 and notified of the items being placed for pickup.

The shuttles began operation immediately following the ceremony. The fare remains 25 cents.

The Granite City route extends from Belleville Area College's Granite City Campus to the Crossroads Shopping Center. The Anchorage homes, 23rd Street and Madison Avenue, 19th Street and Edison Avenue, West 23rd Street and Illinois Avenue, and St. Louis and Poplar streets.

In making these stops, the shuttle travels south on Maryville Road and then along Orville, Ball, Numecki, East 26th, Edwards, 23rd, Madison, looping on Edison to State and Delmar, back on 20th and Edison to 19th, Illinois, West 23rd, Rock Road, Poplar and Niedringhaus.

Northbound, the shuttle operates from 7:12 a.m. to 5:35 p.m. Southbound, the shuttle operates from 7:25 a.m. to 5:40 p.m.

Jack Lee to lead United Way campaign

The Tri-Cities Area United Way has named John E. "Jack" Lee III as the general chairman of its 1990 fund-raising campaign. The announcement was made by Elmer Wortham, UW president.

"Jack has been actively involved with the United Way for many years, serving as a board member since 1983 and as our board president three years ago. His past experience as a campaign volunteer makes him an excellent choice to head the drive this year," Wortham said in his announcement.

Lee is the president and chairman of the board of the First National Bank in Madison. He is a lifelong resident of the Quad

City area. "A tireless community volunteer, Jack is currently the first vice president of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce. He is a director and past president of the Tri-City Area YMCA and a member of the Citizens Advisory Committee of St. Elizabeth Medical Center," Wortham said.

John Lee III
chairman

Lee is active in the Madison-

Venice Rotary Club and is a member of the Granite City Optimist Club.

His professional associations include serving in 1980 as president-elect of the Madison-Bond-Jersey-Calhoun Counties Bankers' Federation.

Lee was asked to comment on why he chooses to be a United Way volunteer.

"If enough people in this community care, we can get anything done," Lee said. "I realized a long time ago that we can't solve entire problems alone. It takes each person's consistent volunteer contribution added to others' volunteer efforts to eventually solve human-care problems.

"I believe the United Way is the main catalyst for solving the community's problems. United Way is a system committed to helping people."

"It brings together people who can help with the people who need help. It is people volunteering their time, talents, energies and resources to those in need."

"I salute all of the Tri-Cities Area United Way volunteers and supporters who do so much through the United Way. It's a system that works."

The fund-raising goal for the 1990 annual United Way campaign will be announced at a kickoff breakfast Sept. 6.

Staff at SEMC honored for long service

GRANITE CITY — St. Elizabeth Medical Center has honored 220 employees for long years of service and dedication to the medical center. SEMC's annual Associate Awards dinner was held in the Living World Center at the St. Louis Zoo.

"It was a great opportunity to honor the associates for their efforts," said SEMC President Ted Eilerman.

"They are the ones who make SEMC, not the buildings or the equipment. Their dedication makes us the great medical center we are."

The "Associate of the Year" award was presented to Rhonda McDowell of the SEMC laboratory.

Sponsored by the Glik family, the award is designed to recognize an associate who, through efforts and outstanding performance, conveys concern and excellence to patients, visitors and the staff. A $1,000 prize is included.

"The hospital has been directly or indirectly involved in every major event in my life," said McDowell, who started her career at the medical center at the age of 13½ as a Candystriper. "Just being nominated was my reward. I never expected to win," she said.

Past winners of the award were: Bob Turck, Tony Elliot, Claudine McGlothlin, Martha Burnett, Marianne Hicks, Shaky Saligram, Kathy McKay, Barb Booth, Albert McDonald and Mary Kay Heagy-Metz.

During the years the award has been presented, 166 have been nominated for their outstanding service to SEMC. Wanda Gutierrez, unit secretary on 3-Binney, was named the recipient of the Georgianna Moses Eilerman Scholarship Award.

The award is given by the Eilerman family in honor of Mrs. Eilerman's love of nursing and support of higher education. "I intend to use the scholarship to pursue an associate degree in nursing at Belleville Area College," Gutierrez said.

Service awards were given at the dinner for 40, 30, 25, 20, 15, 10 and 5 years of service.

The top seven service awardees have had varied careers.

40 YEARS: Shirley James, Granite City, went to work at SEMC from high school in 1950.

She has spent her entire career in the Accounting Department, where she is an assistant accountant.

30 YEARS: Sister Mary Paul Hensley of Granite City came to Granite City and SEMC in 1939

after graduating from high school. Upon starting nurse training and observing the dedication of the nuns here, she knew being a nun was all of her calling — even though she wasn't a Catholic at the time. She joined the Sisters of Divine Providence and became a registered nurse, later pioneering three departments for which she was responsible for 20 years — Pediatrics, X-ray and Electrocardiogram.

She was also an assistant in Hospital Administration, provincial superior for 10 years; a past board member and now guest representative.

30 YEARS: Thurman Brooks, Edwardsville, has spent almost all of his SEMC career in the Maintenance Department.

For the last 13 years, he has been a heating, ventilation and air conditioning craftsman. He was originally hired as a temporary laborer to help clean the newly constructed Binney Wing.

In the U.S. Navy, he had worked aboard ships in the boiler rooms. Eventually, he earned full-time work in the boiler room at SEMC and later was named assistant plant superintendent.

30 YEARS: Violet Fischer, Collinsville, has been a registered nurse in Obstetrics. She "fell in love" with the maternity ward during nurse training at the former St. Elizabeth School of Nursing in Granite City.

Except for seven months on a medical floor, she has worked exclusively in the Obstetrics Department and helped in the delivery and care of thousands of babies at SEMC.

Her nursing career was interrupted for several years in the early 1950s, when she married and took time off to raise two children. She still managed to help doctors with home deliveries and also cover other nurses' vacations before going back to SEMC in 1960 on a full-time basis. This June, she retired.

30 YEARS: Keith Pryor, Granite City, director of Management Services, started as an orderly on the second floor.

In 1963, he became chief of Inhalation Therapy; in 1964, unit manager in the Operating Room; and in 1966, Operating Room methods director.

30 YEARS: Viola Schmiege, Granite City, Operating Room, has worked in many areas, including medical floors and the Emergency Room.

In 1969, she found her "home," joining the Operating Room staff as a scrub technician. She has been there 21 years, helping to train new associates and maintain a high level of care.

30 YEARS: Sister Mary Thomas, Jirauach, Granite City, Administration, entered the convent after graduating from high school and went into teaching after taking her first vows. She was a teacher for five years before going back to school as a nursing student.

She was a nurse for only two weeks at St. Elizabeth before her provincial superior, Sister Lucia, asked her to go back to school to get a master's degree in hospital administration.

Sister Mary Thomas served as president of SEMC for a record 22 years. For the past six years, she has served as chairman of the board at the medical center.

'Outstanding' residents in annual publication

The board of advisers for the Outstanding Young Men of America awards program announced three men from the Granite City area have been selected for inclusion in the 1989 edition of "Outstanding Young Men of America."

The list includes: Dan Vizer, Richard Arthur Koerper and John Jeffrey Worthen.

The men listed, along with fellow Outstanding Young Men throughout North America, were selected after 150,000 nominations were received from political leaders, university and college officials, clergy, men, business leaders, as well as from various civic groups and community organizations.

Each young man will be represented by his biographical entry in the annual awards publication.

Now in its 27th year, the OYMA program is designed to honor and encourage exceptional young men between the ages of 21 and 40 who have distinguished themselves in many fields of endeavor, such as service to community, professional leadership, academic achievement, business advancement, cultural accomplishments and civic and political participation.

Achievements in these areas are the result of dedication, responsibility, and a drive for excellence — qualities which deserve to be recognized and remembered, the publishers noted.

The new Magna Master Protection Plan adds life to your warranties.

The day after Robyn and Brook bought a new aquarium, their baby son, Cirrus, went fishing. In the past, damaged purchases and defective products with expired warranties were costly for the Banks Family. But now they are covered by the new Magna Master Protection.

The Magna Master Protection is provided free of charge to all Magna Bank personal checking account customers. Purchases made using a Magna Bank check are covered in two ways:

90-Day Purchase Replacement
This coverage protects most items of personal property for 90 days after their purchase. If your purchase is lost, stolen or damaged, the item will either be replaced or you will receive payment for the purchase amount.

Anjelica Huston powerful in numerous video roles

Anjelica Huston has become one of the most versatile American actors, and "Enemies, A Love Story" (1989, Media Home Entertainment, $89.98) shows just how accomplished she is. As the down-to-earth wife of bigamist Ron Silver, Huston holds her own with the chief rival for his affection, Lena Olin.

"Enemies" is a quintessential Paul Mazursky sex comedy in the tradition of the film that launched the writer-director's career in Hollywood, "Bob & Carol & Ted & Alice" (1969, RCA/Columbia, $64.95).

But "Enemies" is far more profound. The comedy-drama is based on a story by Isaac Bashevis Singer, who earlier proved he could provide good screen material with the success of Barbara Streisand's "Yentl" (1983, CBS/Fox, $29.98).

For Mazursky, Singer offers the basis of a French farce with tragic dimensions. Set in the New York City of the late 1930s, "Enemies" charts the path of a recently transplanted Holocaust refugee (Silver) married to the gentle woman (Anne Sophie Stein) who helped him escape Europe. She is sweet but a bore, so for passion, Silver is involved with a tempestuous Jewish survivor (Olin) who is as sexy as all get-out.

Into this happy arrangement pops Huston, as Silver's presumed-dead first wife from Europe. "I see nothing's changed you," Huston says when she deduces his situation, going on to fix her husband something to eat like the good wife she was in the old country.

The resolution of Silver's conflict is bittersweet; this moving film ends with a rueful optimism. For their superlative performances, both Huston and Olin were Oscar nominees last year for Best Supporting Actress, as was Mazursky for his adapted screenplay.

Huston received an Oscar five years ago for her turn as the rebellious Mafia princess in "Prizzi's Honor" (1985 Vestron Video, $14.98), directed by her father, John Huston. As Maerose, Huston is wonderful, going to any length to get what she wants in this black comedy.

In her funniest scene, Huston dresses as if she is in mourning when she serves dinner to her screen pappy (William Hickey) so that he will feel sorry for her. Then she taunts him with the story of a sexual episode between herself and the hit man she adores (Jack Nicholson), causing dad to begin choking in horror. She further bedevils him by apparently banding him a Mass of water that turns out to be liquor. As poppa explodes, Huston watches with calm amusement. Nice kid.

John Huston directed his daughter in a role light-years away from Maerose two years later in his adaptation of James Joyce's short story, "The Dead" (1987, Vestron, $89.98). The director's last film, this recreation of turn-of-the-century Dublin is loving and delicate. Anjelica Huston, working with an Irish cast, stars as a thoughtful wife who is reminded of a sad memory during a dinner party on Christmas Eve.

Cosmopolitan and The New York Times.

Woody Allen's marvelous "Crimes and Misdemeanors" (1989, Orion, $89.98) gives Huston an All-American role, a brainy stewardess jilted by her married lover, played by Oscar nominee Martin Landau. Threatening, distraught or scheming, Huston's

TOM SENECZYN at work during his "partial" no-hitter Thursday.

Seneczyn's no-hitter on hold Bizarre 2-2 game to be completed in Alton today

By Dave Whaley
Executive sports editor

It's been said that no matter how many baseball games you attend, you might see something new at any time.

With that in mind, when was the last time you saw:

A) A pitcher throw a no-hitter?

B) That same pitcher give up two runs?

C) That same pitcher not win the game?

D) The opposing team not win either?

E) The game suspended to be completed at a later date?

F) All of the above?

Anyone who was at Varsity Field on Thursday was treated to F. The bizarre events which transpired were more suited to Friday the 13th than Thursday the 12th.

Tom "Butch" Seneczyn was the central figure. The Triplets' hard-throwing right-hander allowed no hits through seven innings, but Post 13 and Alton Post 126 were tied 2-2 after seven frames when the rains came. As a result, the game will be completed Sunday at Gordon Moore Park in Alton. The Triplets lets play at Wood River at 1 p.m., then will swing over to Alton, where Seneczyn will try to complete his masterpiece.

"I feel so bad for Butch," said Triplets manager Ralph Burnett in a downcast triplet dugout. "Alton is over there sky high because they didn't lose. But they'll be seeing Butch again Sunday. This is a first, not only for me but for probably everyone else."

Kurt Hodges made a couple of netts. "But other than that Butch was tremendous," said Seneczyn. "Seneczyn" was throwing heat," said Alton manager Karl Doucett. "We couldn't put the ball in play. I guess we have to be happy to be going to extra innings since we haven't had a hit. But we really could have won it."

But the Triplets had more chances. They stranded 10 in seven innings. Chad Lignoul doubled home one run in the second, but Jeff Stephens was out at the plate trying to make it a two-run play. Lignoul drove in the other run with an infield out in the fourth.

Then Lignoul was almost the hero in the bottom of the seventh. He led off with a long fly to left off Alton starter Joey Porter, but the ball died in the wet air and hit the fence for a double. Ryan Reeves bunted him to third with one out, then reliever Keith Jackson intentionally walked Wallace and Brian Harshany to load the bases. Rich Schardan hit the first pitch to third baseman Tom Brinkman, who forced Lignoul at the plate. Dan Partney struck out to end the threat as the rain fell.

swinging at the first pitch then," said Burnett. "There was a new pitcher and you want to make him throw a strike. And he hit it to the only spot where they could get the out."

"But I thought Chad's ball was going out. Richie and Danny also hit a couple of shots, but the ball wasn't carrying tonight."

The umpires called the game within seconds of the final out of the seventh. The Triplets hung around for several minutes hoping against hope, but there was no recourse. The rain let up significantly within 10 minutes.

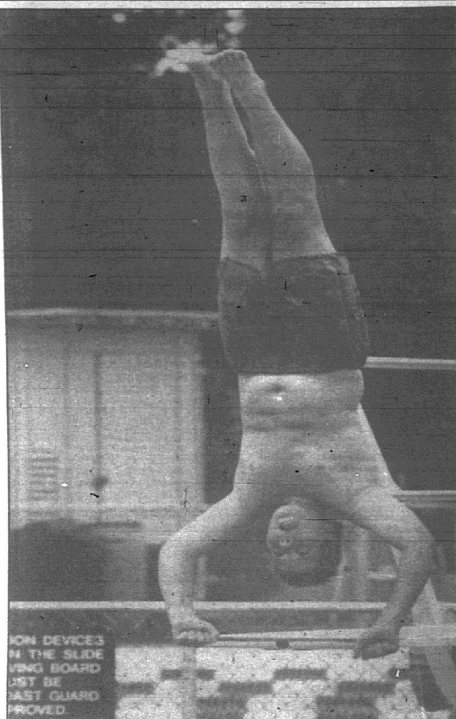

"We could be playing right now," said Burnett. "We came out here about 4:30 this afternoon and did a lot of work to even be able to play tonight. I thought the umpires were a little quick to call the game."

"This game had a playoff atmosphere," said Doucett. Burnett said Seneczyn will take the mound in Alton today. The game will pick up exactly where it left off and the Triplets will be the home team. Harshany was scheduled to pitch in Collinsville, Saturday and

Park seeks umpires

The Granite City Park District is seeking people to umpire youth softball and baseball games.

Anyone who will be at least 16 years old by Dec. 31, 1990, may apply. For more information, call Ray Hoffman at the Granite City Park District (877-3059).

•Butch

Schardan will pitch in Wood River today.

"Every game is a championship game now," said Burnett of the Triplets' quest to catch Edwardsville (11-4) in the North Division standings.

Granite City is 9-5 and would win the division if they win the three weekend games plus the regular-season finale Tuesday (p.m.) in Edwardsville. Alton is 8-6.

NOTES: It was the second time in three years Alton came away from Granite City without a hit. Darin Hendrickson pitched a no-hitter in an 8-0 win over Post 126 on June 28, 1988.

Shawn Petroski
... 8 goals in England

Petroski leads Gallagher club on England trip

Shawn Petroski of Granite City was the leading scorer for the Scott Gallagher Soccer Club of St. Louis which went to England last month.

Petroski, 13, is in his second year with the Gallagher Club. The team stayed in the city of Leeds and played four games on the trip, which lasted from June 14-26. Team members lodged with families of their opponents. Gallagher won three of the games and got a tie against an older team. The Gallagher team is made up entirely of 13-year-olds.

Petroski scored eight of the team's 15 goals in the four games. He will be in eighth grade at Coolidge Junior High School this fall.

Gallagher compiled a 35-1-3 record last year, winning the Granite City Elks Tournament, the Florissant United Soccer Club Thanksgiving Tournament and a Christmas tournament at the Jamestown soccer fields. They were 13-0-1 in the St. Louis Youth Soccer Association fall league and 11-1-2 in the SLISA winter league.

GCHS grad leads solar car race

Sunset Software Technology, of San Marino, Calif., is one of the proud sponsors of the University of Maryland's "Pride of Maryland," a solar-powered car competing in the GM Sunrayce 1990.

Sunset Software technology has provided the most efficient driving speed and electric consumption for the race, taking into account solar intensity, wind speed and elevation changes, said SST president Jim Byer.

Byer, a 1986 graduate of Granite City High School, has provided the computer technology for the Pride of Maryland. He graduated from the University of Missouri in Rolla in 1970. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Byer of Granite City.

GM Sunrayce USA is a transnational U.S. solar-powered car race for North American university teams. The race began July 9 from Walt Disney World's Epcot Center in Florida, racing 1,800 miles north on secondary state and county roads. The race will end July 19 at the General Motors Technical Center in Warren, Mich.

The three top teams, to be sponsored by GM, will then compete at the 1990 World Solar Challenge in Australia in November.

Under 19 has tryouts slated for Belleville

Tryouts for an area-wide Under 19 soccer team will be held at Lademann Park in Belleville on Monday, Wednesday and Friday of this week.

Tryouts are from 6-8 p.m. each night. The team will be coached by Rob Mann, now the head soccer coach at Waterloo High School and a former member of the Granite City High School soccer team.

Park has baseball tournaments slated

The Granite City Park District baseball tournaments will be held on three successive weekdays.

The Bantam tournament is July 21-22; the Midget tournament is July 28-29; and the Juvenile tournament is Aug. 4-5. For more information about entering a team, write the park district at Benton and Oregon Streets, Granite City, Ill., 62040, or call the park at 877-3059.
